

Stronger Local Economy

When people spend less on housing, they spend more in their local community.